The Mayor's Corner

The State of our City is “Perseverance, Resiliency, Strength and the Hilltopper Spirit.”

It is in times of crisis that one learns the strength of their fortitude. It is in times of crisis that those who can lead hold steady to their commitment to the community and are separated by those whose words are simply rhetoric. It is in times of crisis that the true values of a community are demonstrated, solidifying into the books of history the foundation of what reflects the citizens who call our 10 square mile home we call Somersworth.

One year ago this month, our community, our state, our nation, our planet, our lives were turned abruptly into a direction unknown by the outbreak of the global pandemic COVID 19. The norms all of us had grown accustomed to disappeared, as

Hilltoppers Stand with our Asian Brothers and Sisters

For 245 years, as a nation we have been on a perpetual journey. A journey to deliver on the promise we announced to each other, and the world upon our independence, “That all men are created equal that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.”

For 245 years, we have fought off the enemies who wished to extinguish the torch of liberty. We have stood strong with each other from the smell of musket fire to the roaring of the howitzer. Yet, while we have victories in our battles to defend freedom, in the war against our biggest enemy to liberty, our biggest enemy to our dreams, our biggest enemy to our hope, we have painstakingly advanced on little ground.

Thank you Senator Shaheen, for your hard work on the passage of the American Rescue Plan

While others used stall tactics Sen. Shaheen used skill. While others said “No” to moving our nation forward from the grips of the pandemic, Senator Shaheen used her fortitude to lead her colleagues ensuring that citizens, businesses, schools and local governments would be able to recover, rebuild and move forward.

Today, the Hilltop City stands with pride in thanking Senator Shaheen and members of our Congressional team in the US House and Senate, for their dedication to our 10 square mile community known as Somersworth. Because of your efforts, your hard work and your dedication, our community will continue to remain “On the Move!”

When You've Been Fully Vaccinated

COVID-19 vaccines are effective at protecting you from getting sick. Based on what we know about COVID-19 vaccines, people who have been fully vaccinated can start to do some things that they had stopped doing because of the pandemic.

We're still learning how vaccines will affect the spread of COVID-19.

After you've been fully vaccinated against COVID-19, you should keep taking precautions in public places like wearing a mask, staying 6 feet apart from others, and avoiding crowds and poorly ventilated spaces until we know more.

What's Changed

If you've been fully vaccinated:

- You can gather indoors with fully vaccinated people without wearing a mask.
- You can gather indoors with unvaccinated people from one other household (for example, visiting with relatives who all live together) without masks, unless any of those people or anyone they live with has an increased risk for severe illness from COVID-19.

If you've been around someone who has COVID-19, you do not need to stay away from others or get tested unless you have symptoms. However, if you live in a group setting (like a correctional or detention facility or group home) and are around someone who has COVID-19, you should still stay away from others for 14 days and get tested, even if you don't have symptoms.

What Hasn't Changed

For now, if you've been fully vaccinated:

You should still take steps to protect yourself and others in many situations, like wearing a mask, staying at least 6 feet apart from others, and avoiding crowds and poorly ventilated spaces. Take these precautions whenever you are:

- In public gathering with unvaccinated people from more than one other household
- Visiting with an unvaccinated person who is at increased risk of severe illness or death from COVID-19 or who lives with a person at increased risk
- You should still avoid medium or large-sized gatherings.
- You should still delay domestic and international travel. If you do travel, you'll still need to follow CDC requirements and recommendations.
- You should still watch out for symptoms of COVID-19, especially if you've been around someone who is sick. If you have symptoms of COVID-19, you should get tested and stay home and away from others.
- You will still need to follow guidance at your workplace.

The entire order, including exceptions and exclusions, can be viewed here.

Green Grass & Clear Water

Did you know that you can have a healthy, green lawn that is both attractive and safer for the environment?

Some lawn care practices create local water quality problems. Excess nutrients (including nitrogen and phosphorus found in fertilizers) that run off our properties into nearby waterbodies can trigger harmful algal blooms.

Many of us enjoy the time we spend working on our lawns and are willing to try new practices as long as our lawns continue to look good. This information card shares simple and easy tips, customized for northern New England, that can lead to Green Grass & Clear Water.

For more details about these tips and others:

extension.unh.edu/tags/home-lawn-care

1 Choose the right grass seed. The best seed mixes include low maintenance varieties with higher % of fine-leaf fescues and turf- or compact-type tall fescues, and lower % of Kentucky bluegrass and perennial rye grass.

2 Mow smart. Leave grass at least 3" high. Cut no more than one-third (1/3) of the blade each time you mow to encourage longer, stronger roots. Leave the grass clippings after mowing so they can return nutrients to the soil.

3 Don't overwater. 1" of water per week (from rain or irrigation) is usually enough. Overwatering can cause nutrients to move out of root zones and into waterbodies or groundwater.

4 Have your soil tested to learn more about specific characteristics and needs of your lawn. Contact UNH Cooperative Extension: extension.unh.edu/programs/soil-testing-services

Only if your lawn requires added nutrients from fertilizer:

5 Avoid overapplying. Measure the area where you plan to apply and calculate the square footage. For lawns 10+ years old, apply half (1/2) the amount recommended for your square area one time per season. New lawns may need another application. Apply no more than 4 times per season.

6 Choose the right fertilizer. Select fertilizers with zero or low phosphorus unless a soil test says otherwise. Slow release nitrogen fertilizer is generally preferable. Overapplying fertilizer (any type) can cause water quality issues.

7 Know when and where to apply. Apply only after spring "green up" and before mid-September. Avoid applying in mid-summer. Never apply near waterbodies or storm drains.

Somersworth Fire Department & Emergency Management A Safety Message from the Fire Chief's Office

“... Life's better now than it was back then ...”

New York City - 1911 Fire Tragedy

For those who remember the song “Photograph” by the artist Nickleback, you may recall the lyrics “... Life's better now than it was back then ...”. That introspective line of thinking is especially true when considering how much we have improved fire safety based on the lessons of past tragedies. In 1911, the Triangle Shirtwaist Company factory occupied floors 8-10 of the 10-story Asch Building in the lower Manhattan neighborhood of Greenwich Village in New York City. The factory employed nearly 500 workers – mostly young women working in “sweatshop” like conditions – to produce upscale women's blouses, known as “shirtwaists”. Housekeeping within the factory was extremely poor and there were months of highly flammable cloth scraps on the floor and in bins among the workstations. To prevent workers from taking unauthorized breaks and reduce theft, the doors to the very narrow stairwells and exits were always locked. On March 25th, just before the 4 PM closing time, a fire started in a fabric scrap bin on the eighth floor most likely caused by a discarded cigarette. In a matter of minutes 146 people – mostly young women - had perished.

Fire Prevention Tips

Tragedies like the Triangle Shirtwaist factory fire led to better fire codes and life is truly better than it was back in 1911. However, complacency is ever present, and we need to remember the lessons from over 100 years ago in present day Somersworth:

- Improperly discarded cigarettes and smoking materials continue to start fires. Always use extreme caution when smoking and discarding cigarettes and matches. Do not smoke in bed or when falling asleep.
- Keep your home, garage, storage shed, business, rental property and the like free of excess or unnecessary flammable materials such as wood, paper, trash, and flammable chemicals.
- Keep all exit paths in your home, garage, storage shed, business, rental property and the like clear of obstacles that could prevent safe and efficient egress in the event of an emergency.
- When out in public, always know where another exit is in addition to the way that you entered the premises.

With Spring upon us, the potential for storms with thunder and lightning is here. Seek shelter if caught outside during a thunder or lightning event. Portable generators produce carbon monoxide which is an odorless and colorless silent killer.

If you lose electricity and use a portable generator, run it at least 20 feet (FEMA guidance) away from the house – never inside the house, in the garage, in a breezeway, or on a deck.

When Thunder Roars, Go Indoors!

- STOP all activities
- Seek shelter in a substantial building or hard-topped vehicle
- Wait 30 minutes after the storm to resume activities

weather.gov/lightning

Stay safe, be careful, and look out for each other.
George Kramlinger, Fire Chief/Emergency Management Director

Please see the following safety messages and pictures of recent Somersworth Fire Department activities

In coordination with the City of Somersworth Emergency Management, the Strafford County Public Health Network (SCPHN) conducted a closed, drive-through vaccination clinic for the Somersworth school district and personnel from other educational facilities in the City consistent with New Hampshire's Phase IB vaccination plan. The clinic was conducted on the campus of Idlehurst Elementary School. Eleven members of the Somersworth Fire Department - including those on duty - assisted the short staffed SCPHN team in providing vaccinations and logistical support. Shown here is FF/EMT Daniel Toof administering the final vaccination of the clinic.

On Sunday, March 7th, 2021 at approximately 2:00 PM, a skater on the Salmon Falls River plunged through the thin ice near the trail off Buffinsville Road. With full on-duty staffing, excellent equipment, modern procedures, and several recent training sessions, the City of Somersworth Fire Department completed a rapid rescue of the victim who called 9-1-1 using his Apple watch. The entire emergency response system including the State 9-1-1 call taker, Somersworth Emergency Dispatcher, Somersworth Police Officers, Stewart's Ambulance, and the Somersworth Fire Department performed flawlessly. Off-duty Somersworth Firefighters provided station coverage assisted by Dover Fire while Berwick Fire assisted carrying the victim to the ambulance.

Members of the SFD C-Shift take a well-deserved breather after navigating a challenging obstacle course known as the "Pittsburgh Drill" to locate then rescue a simulated down firefighter in distress within a building. This drill is a module within the SFD's Firefighter Assistance and Search Team

Somersworth Police & Friends

SCAM ALERT!

We have seen an increase recently in scams and attempted scams. These scams typically target the elderly, and prey on emotions and fears. The callers may tell you they are from the IRS, or a Police Department and that if you don't send them a certain amount of money that a warrant for your arrest will be issued. A dead giveaway that you are being scammed is that the caller will ask for the money in gift cards or bitcoin. Following are a few things to be aware of to avoid losing your hard earned savings.

- The caller identifies as a Police Officer and tells you they have your granddaughter/grandson in custody and the only way for them to be released is for you to send them money be in the form of gift cards or bitcoin. They will have a young person speak to you identifying as your grandchild in an effort to make it realistic and will demand thousands of dollars, and beg you not to tell their parents.
- The caller identifies as a representative of the IRS and tells you that unless you send them money there will be a warrant issued for your arrest. Again, they will request payment in gift cards or bitcoin. The IRS does not ever make phone calls of this sort.
- Finally, callers will provide addresses to send money to that are street addresses, and often vacant lots, not Police Departments or Government buildings.

In closing, if you receive any calls asking for any type of payment in gift cards or bitcoin, it is a scam. If any of the above situations are presented to you in a phone call, please call us, we will reach out to the caller for you. That alone will save you from losing savings that you have worked a lifetime for.

What's Happening at Somersworth Library

Hello Everyone,

March brought a Dr. Seuss week-long celebration, and we're aware of the controversy surrounding him, and support a discussion targeting stereotypes and knowledge within a historical context. There were truffula tree cupcakes if you were lucky enough to get there early and a photo booth designed by Miss Tasha. Just about every week there is a take and make craft connected with a story read online.

Many new young adult graphic novels are in the collection. We're also really interested in reading suggestions from our young adults. Ask and you shall receive. There are slips in the YA area to submit your requests.

The NY Times bestseller lists are posted weekly for our adult and young adult populations. Most of the books are in our collection or ordered. While the children's lists are not posted, these books too are ordered.

The magazine/newspaper collection is a work in progress. We have solicited suggestions and continue to do so. What national newspaper would you come to the library to read?

The library is your space. It's here for you to meet with friends, scroll Instagram, read, contemplate. Need to get out of the house? Come here. We'll be happy to see you.

To see what books and movies are new, check out our catalog page

"Tomb Stone History from Forrest Glade Cemetery"

submitted by Mark Richardson
Cemetery Trustees Board Member

Leander Monroe Nute
A Man of Many Professions

While walking through Forest Glade Cemetery, have you ever wondered about the history of Somersworth as told by those who are forever resting among us? One day I came upon Leander Nute, and noticed he was born in 1831. I thought he was certainly of age to have been a soldier of the Civil War, but his name didn't appear on any known list of Somersworth soldiers of the war. It turns out, Leander was engaged in one of the few occupations that exempted him from service, but I'm getting ahead of myself.

Find a Grave...

Leander was born to David and Lavina (Cook) Nute of Milton, NH on April 16, 1831. His grandfather had been Sergeant Jotham Nute who was a veteran of the Revolutionary War with the 2nd New Hampshire Regiment, and had earned a Badge of Merit for his seven years of service. After his education, he first worked in a shoe factory, but he had other ambitions, such that he became a teacher in Pittsfield, New Hampshire. This experience gave him a leg up when he decided to attend Dartmouth College. His teaching experience gave him one years credit towards his degree, and he graduated in 1854. Still, he returned to take additional scientific courses and became a railroad man, running a 198 mile rail line from Saratoga, New York to Sackett's Harbor on Lake Ontario. During this time, he married Cordelia "Delia" Forbes Furbush in 1857, and they moved to Michigan and then on to Iowa where he continued as a Railroad Agent and Civil Engineer. During the Civil War, those who worked for the railroads or in transportation services were considered essential workers, which exempted them from military service.

Following the war, Leander and Delia returned to New Hampshire, first to Farmington and then to Somersworth, where Leander established himself as an owner of a shoe manufacturing factory in Berwick, Maine. Through his efforts, he employed 250 persons who turned out 1,200 pairs of shoes each day. All along, Leander had another talent, and that was making violins. Upon his retirement, at the age of 68, Leander and Delia moved to Portland, Maine, where Leander set up shop as a violin maker. It's known that he made at least 278 violins, because it was number 278 that won him a first place prize in a competition sponsored by the Maine Violin Makers' Association. The New Hampshire Historical Society is the proud owner of number 40, made in 1902, which can be seen on their online collection at: New Hampshire Historical Society. Another, made in 1914, was sold by the Skinner Auction House in Boston in 2018 for $369.00. It was given a pre-auction value of $600.00-$800.00, so someone got a deal.

SKINNER

In 1875, Leander represented Somersworth in the New Hampshire House of Representatives. He was a Freemason and served many posts within Somersworth's Libanus Lodge #49, including that of Worshipful Master of the Lodge. He died February 9, 1925, at the age of 94, in Portland, Maine. He was the last surviving member of his Dartmouth graduating class. Leander and Delia had four children, W. M. Nute, Fannie E. Nute, Ella Lavinia Nute Buffum and Edith Nute Robinson. Delia passed away in 1904, and returned to Somersworth to be buried in Forest Glade Cemetery. Leander joined her in 1925. So, the next time you take a walk through Forest Glade Cemetery, feel free to stop and say Hello to Leander and his family. I'm sure they'll appreciate it.

A City Sustainability Committee? Tell Me More!

If you're interested in seeing greater environmental responsibility in Somersworth, you are not alone.

In 2011, the Somersworth Sustainability Committee was formed, seeking to make City government services as energy efficient and sustainable as possible.

Examples include anti-idling policies for city vehicles and on city property; improving reduce/reuse/recycle practices within the city; reduction of energy consumption from the City Council decision to convert all street lights to LED technology; and the City's investment in the wastewater treatment plant to increase efficiency of water consumption & waste production in municipal buildings

Within the Somersworth community, resolutions were passed for single-use plastics reduction among local businesses. Somersworth schools began composting food waste & growing produce in school gardens. The Malley Farm Community Gardens have become a more active group of local volunteers and food growers.

The recognition of Earth Day(April 22) is a perfect time for us consumers and users of resources to evaluate and make small, easy shifts in our habits.

- Do you really need that single-use plastic straw?

- Is it time to gather your reusable grocery bags instead of using plastic?
- Can your food waste be composted instead of thrown in the trash?
- Is this the year you visit Turnkey Landfill for the annual free-to-residents Hazardous Waste Disposal Day in early May?

April 30 also marks Arbor Day. Somersworth will celebrate its designation as a Tree City USA Community, with a tree planted on City property.

For updates on Sustainability Committee meetings(Zoom for now), or if you're interested in learning more about sustainability initiatives and resources available in Somersworth, check out our Sustainability Committee page on the city website, or contact Committee Chair Sarah Eckstein at sarahmeckstein@gmail.com.

Parent Cafe: Growing Joy this Spring

“Why so optimistic about 2021?
What do you think it will bring?”

I think it will bring flowers.

“Yes? How come?”

Because I am planting flowers.

Join us for a Parent Café to talk about how we can plant seeds of optimism and joy in our families this spring.

- What brings you a sense of joy?
- When do you see your kids feeling joyful and how do you support that?
- Are your children natural optimists or pessimists?
- How do you balance everyone's need to “feel their feelings” while also encouraging a positive attitude?

These informal but structured café conversations encourage us to celebrate successes, explore challenges and learn more about our kids and ourselves. We will gain insights and tools for strengthening our families ... and we will experience a bit of joy together!

Thursday, April 1
6:00 - 7:45 PM
